Ron's Briefs® (because they are short)

HAPPY BIRTHDAY BULL!

We have known you since you were just a little calf.

We followed and forecasted your birth and growth through these eight years, even when everybody gave up on you in January 2016 (5-January-2016: "The Bull Market is bruised but still intact"). We are proud to say that we are among the few forecasters that have never abandoned you all these years.

So, on your 8th anniversary,
let's look forward to you being around for a while longer,
maybe for the rest of 2017
(of course with occasional time off for a rest or a snooze).

Sincerely,

The folks at Phases & Cycles Inc.

P.S. I am also on Twitter. Follow me @ronsBriefs.
