Ron's Briefs® (because they are short)

Don't let the negative headlines scare you!

The Bull Market is alive and well.

Headlines warn that the DJI and the SPX and the TSX have all dropped below their 200-day Moving Averages (200dMA). But they have done so four times already this year and we are still in a Bull Market.

What is important is that those 200-day Moving Averages are still rising!!!

As our most recent Market Comment said:

"THERE WILL BE PULLBACKS ALONG THE WAY, BUT NEW ALL-TIME HIGHS ARE IN SIGHT."
